Newly eligible employees and their dependents are eligible to enroll when their employment status meets the employer's eligibility criteria as set forth in the Group Master Policy Agreement and the Group Application. The probationary period is noted on the Group Application.

Quartz must receive the completed and signed Employee Application within 31 days from the date they are first eligible to enroll.

If new employees and their dependents initially waive coverage, they may become eligible later due to a qualified status change or event.

- The completed enrollment request must be received by Quartz within 31 days of the date the employee becomes eligible for coverage.

 - Large Employer Groups: If a waiver of coverage is required for dependents, but not received, upon initial enrollment, Quartz will send a request to have a Waiver of Coverage form completed, signed, and returned.
- Visit Employer Forms and Resources and select your state to download enrollment, waiver, and other forms. Also, you can explore our library of resources available to employers.

Ensuring Timely Enrollments and Avoiding Enrollment Delays

Quartz can enroll employees only when the employer provides complete and accurate information. Before you submit an enrollment form to Quartz, be sure to include the following information:

- Date of hire and hours worked per week
- Group name and group number
- Date and signature
- Full names – do not use abbreviations or nicknames
- Eligible dependent names, dates of birth and primary care physician (PCP) information
- Tax ID number or Social Security Number for the employee and each dependent
- Waiver of Coverage as required and outlined in Enrolling New Employees section above
- Primary Clinic for each family member. Some helpful hints if employee leaves this area blank:
 - If the employee lives outside of Dane County and does not list a Primary Clinic, Quartz will assign a Primary Care Clinic close to the employee’s residence.
 - If the employee lives inside Dane County and does not list a Primary Clinic Quartz will assign the “UW Welcome Center” and the UW Health Welcome Center will assist with setting up primary care.

Note: If the enrollment form is submitted via paper, please make sure the enrollment form is legible to avoid any processing delays.

Government Mandate to Collect Social Security Numbers

The federal government has enacted a mandatory insurer reporting requirement as part of the Medicare, Medicaid and SCHIP Extension Act of 2007 that requires health insurance issuers to attempt to collect Social Security Numbers for all covered employees and spouses over age 45. The federal government also requires health insurance issuers to attempt to collect Social Security Numbers for reporting minimum essential coverage. Because of these requirements, we will contact you and your employees if we do not receive this information OR completed opt-out forms (for SCHIP reporting only). If you have any questions about employee enrollment, please contact Customer Service at (800) 362-3310.

ID Cards

ID cards are issued for the following reasons:

- New coverages
- Changes to the employee's coverage including
 - Benefit plan change
 - Addition or termination of dependent(s)
 - Primary care clinic change
 - Name change
- An employee requested an ID Card

ID cards issued for new coverages will be sent out 7-10 days prior to the employee's effective date. If an enrollment form for new coverage or other changes is not received 10 business days prior to the requested effective date, the ID card may be delayed and may not be received prior to the effective date.

ID cards can also be generated and printed on-demand by the employee from MyChart or by the employer using MyPlanTools.

Change in Status/Qualifying Events

A change in status may be considered a qualifying event, creating a special enrollment period that allows an eligible employee who satisfied the group's probationary period to enroll in the plan after having initially waived the coverage. It may also allow an employee to add a spouse or dependent(s) to the plan. These changes often affect the employee's premium rate.

Please refer to the qualifying event chart on the following pages to determine the type of event, when the coverage becomes effective and what documentation is needed to enroll.

It is important to report these changes to Quartz as soon as you become aware of them, so we can process changes to your membership in a timely manner. Please keep a copy of each submission for your records.

Employee Status Changes

Part-time to Full-time or Temporary to Permanent Employment

An employee who changes from part-time to full-time employment on a permanent basis or from temporary to permanent employment will typically be eligible for coverage after serving the probationary period as a permanent employee listed in the Group Application. The probationary period is established based on the employer's stated probate in the Group Master Policy Agreement and the Group Application. For insurance purposes, the date of hire is the first day of the change in status.

Contact Quartz Customer Service with any questions regarding your employer group's probate terms.

Return from Leave of Absence or Layoff

Quartz has standard probate and coverage terms for leave of absence or layoff, as outlined below. Your employer group's terms may be different. Employer groups are required to outline their specific rehire provisions, in the absence of specific rehire provision language, Quartz will follow the provisions below. Contact Quartz Customer Service with any questions regarding your employer group's terms.

Quartz will allow the following reinstatement provisions for employees returning to work after a leave of absence due to layoff or seasonal employment:

- Employees rehired within 12 months do not need to re-satisfy group specific probate periods.
 - The employee has 31 days after returning to work to re-enroll
 - Coverage effective date will be 1st of the month following receipt of the application

Employees rehired after 12 months are required to re-satisfy group specific probate periods.

Death

If an employee or dependent (including spouse) dies, his/her coverage will end on the date of death. In the case of an employee's death, the surviving dependents' coverage may continue through the end of the month in which the employee died.

The group should offer COBRA/State Continuation coverage to the dependent(s) of the deceased employee. It is the group's responsibility to notify dependents of their continuation rights under COBRA/State Continuation law. If the surviving family members elect to continue coverage, they must complete a new enrollment form.

Note: Quartz has standard terms as outlined above. Your employer group's terms may be different. Contact Quartz Customer Service with any questions regarding your employer group's terms.

Disability

If an employee becomes totally disabled and takes a leave of absence, the individual may continue coverage under the group health plan at the group rate under COBRA or State continuation law. Written notification must be submitted to notify Quartz of the disability leave of absence.

If the employee ceases to be disabled but does not return to work, the individual may have the right to continue coverage for a period of time, but not longer than 18 months.

Note: In this case, continuation coverage due to a disability leave of absence runs concurrently with the continuation period due to termination of employment. After continuation coverage is exhausted, the employee may convert to an individual plan, if the individual applies within 31 days of the loss of group coverage.

No Qualifying Event

If Quartz determines that an employee is eligible, but has not had a qualifying event (e.g., marriage, birth or adoption of a child, or loss of other qualifying coverage), he/she will have to either wait until the next open enrollment period or when a qualifying event does occur. Eligible dependents may also have to either wait until the next open enrollment period, or they experience a valid qualifying event if the employee chose not to enroll the dependents when they were initially eligible.

Reporting Terminations

Submit updates to Quartz:

- Electronically through MyPlanTools or through an 834 file
- By completing and submitting a paper Employee Application

Terminations

Quartz has standard terms regarding terminations as outlined below. Your employer group's terms may be different. Contact Customer Service with any questions regarding your employer group's terms. Complete the date of termination (the date the group is no longer responsible for the employee's premium) and provide the reason for termination. All terminations must be submitted to Quartz in writing within 31 days of the date of termination. Reasons for termination include:

- Retirement
- Resignation
- Death
- Layoff
- Dismissal
- Leave of absence (identify type of leave)
- Reduction in hours worked

Medicare Eligibility

An employee, or his/her dependent(s) that are eligible for Medicare, Quartz should be notified as soon as possible to ensure proper claims processing. Employees or dependents can be eligible for Medicare for 3 reasons.

- Age In-Employee or dependent turning 65
- Disability-Employee or dependent qualifies for Medicare due to a disability
- End Stage Renal Disease (ESRD)-Employee or dependent qualifies for Medicare due to ESRD

As soon as you are aware of an employee or dependent eligible for Medicare, please send Quartz a copy of their Medicare card or contact Quartz directly to give this information.

Coordination of Benefits with Medicare

The coordination of medical benefits for a Medicare beneficiary will be determined by the following factors:

- Employment status of employee – Active vs Non-Active (Retiree/COBRA/Disabled)
- Size of your employer group (Based on CMS regulations for Coordination of Benefits)
- Reason employee or dependent is eligible for Medicare

Per your Certificate of Coverage or Plan Document, if Medicare Part A and/or Part B are waived, we will determine Medicare's liability and claims will be processed as if Part A and Part B are in force. In all cases, Coordination of Benefits with Medicare will conform to Federal Statutes and Regulations.

Employees should contact Social Security and Medicare to get additional information on signing up for Part A and/or Part B, and when they will be effective.

COBRA and State Continuation Coverage

Employers are responsible for monitoring employees and their dependents for changes in status and eligibility for Cobra or State Continuation coverage.

It is extremely important for employers to know their obligations under COBRA and State continuation law. The purpose of this section is to provide an overview of COBRA and State continuation law. It is not a complete guide and is not a substitute for legal counsel. We advise each employer to discuss these matters with legal counsel or to participate in COBRA seminars and workshops that are available from several sources.

Visit Employer Forms and Resources and select your state to download the COBRA Group Continuation Notice and State Group Continuation Notice.

Termination of COBRA or State Continuation Coverage

- Coverage ends the last day of the month following termination of employment.
- The premium must be paid for the entire month, even though the employee may be employed for only part of the month. Quartz does not prorate premiums for terminated employees.

Employers with 20 or More Employees are Governed by COBRA

The employer is responsible for verifying COBRA eligibility before offering COBRA coverage to the individual and submitting the continuation request to Quartz.

The Consolidated Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1985 (COBRA) gives an individual the right to continue group insurance coverage at his/her own expense for a limited period of time. COBRA applies to employers with 20 or more employees on more than 50% of the employer's typical business days in the previous calendar year.

Under COBRA, a qualified beneficiary is an individual who experiences a qualifying event and is, therefore, eligible to continue group coverage if the individual was covered under the group health plan on the day before the qualifying event occurred. The qualified beneficiary may be an employee, an employee's spouse or former spouse, or an employee's dependent child.

A qualifying event is an event that results in loss of coverage under an employer's group plan.

Qualifying Events

The following are qualifying events for the covered employee:

- Voluntary or involuntary termination of the covered employee's employment other than by reason of gross misconduct
- Retirement is considered a termination of employment event
- Reduction in hours of the covered employee's employment

The following are qualifying events for the covered employee's spouse or dependent children:

- Voluntary or involuntary termination of the covered employee's employment other than by reason of gross misconduct
- Retirement is considered a termination of employment event
- Reduction in hours of the covered employee's employment
- Divorce or legal separation of the covered employee from the employee's spouse

- Covered employee becomes entitled to Medicare
- Death of the covered employee
- Dependent children only: loss of “dependent child” status under the generally applicable requirements of the plan

Bankruptcy of an employer may also be a qualifying event. Contact Customer Service if there is a bankruptcy filing.

Not Qualifying Events

The following are not qualifying events:

- A change in insurance carriers
 - Replacement of one insured health plan with a less generous plan is not a qualified event
- Filing for divorce if legal separation preceded the divorce
 - If legal separation precedes the divorce and results in a loss of coverage, then the legal separation will be the qualifying event. Otherwise, the entry of the divorce decree is the triggering event
- Employee drops coverage for spouse or dependents
- Employee's resignation from Union
- Termination of employment after insurer cancels group health plan

Continuation Period

For the covered employee:

- Voluntary or involuntary termination of the covered employee's employment other than by reason of gross misconduct. Note: A retirement is considered a termination of employment: 18 months
- Reduction in hours of the covered employee's employment: 18 months

For the covered employee's spouse or dependent children:

- Voluntary or involuntary termination of the covered employee's employment other than by reason of gross misconduct. Note: A retirement is considered a termination of employment: 18 months
- Reduction in hours of the covered employee's employment: 18 months
- Divorce or legal separation of the covered employee from the employee's spouse: 36 months
- Covered employee becomes entitled to Medicare: If the employee is entitled to Medicare less than 18 months before the qualifying event, COBRA coverage can last until 36 months after the date the employee becomes entitled to Medicare
- Death of the covered employee: 36 months
- For dependent children only, loss of “dependent child” status under the generally applicable requirements of the plan: 36 months
- If one of the qualified beneficiaries is disabled and meets certain requirements, all of the qualified beneficiaries of in that family are entitled to an 11-month extension of continuation coverage for a maximum of 29 total months.

When COBRA Coverage Ends

COBRA coverage ends on the earliest of the following dates:

- The end of the period for which the last premium was paid on time
- The date the employer ceases to maintain any group health plan
- The date the qualified beneficiary begins coverage under another group health plan after electing COBRA coverage

- The date the qualified beneficiary becomes entitled to Medicare benefits after electing COBRA coverage
- The date Quartz determines that the qualified beneficiary has engaged in conduct that would justify the plan in terminating coverage of a similarly situated participant or beneficiary not receiving COBRA coverage (e.g., fraud)
- The date on which the applicable period of COBRA coverage ends.

COBRA Coverage and the Health Insurance Marketplace

Employees who are eligible for COBRA coverage, or who have exhausted COBRA coverage, are eligible for enrollment in a plan offered on the Health Insurance Marketplace. Employees can navigate to healthcare.gov to obtain a Marketplace quote.

Employers with Fewer Than 20 Employees are Governed by State Continuation Law

Employer’s Responsibilities

The employer is responsible for verifying continuation eligibility before offering continuation coverage to the individual and submitting the continuation request to Quartz.

The employer is responsible for notifying members of their continuation rights in a timely manner. The employer is also responsible for collecting premiums during the continuation period and submitting them to Quartz in a timely manner.

When a member terminates employment, the employer should notify Quartz through MyPlanTools, an 834 file or by submitting a written termination request. Note:

A new enrollment form/employee application must be submitted if the individual electing continuation coverage is a spouse or dependent child. Visit Employer Forms and Resources and select your state to download the appropriate form.

Quartz will update that member’s future termination date. The names of individuals on State continuation will appear in the COBRA section of your billing statement.

We recommend that you terminate an employee from the plan if you are not certain the individual will elect to continue coverage. We can reinstate members retroactively after they have elected coverage and paid the necessary premiums. Please refer to the Billing Invoice Section for premium payment options.

Dependent Children No Longer Meeting Eligibility Requirements

Quartz will notify the employer that the dependent has been removed from the policy due to no longer meeting eligibility requirements. When you receive a notice from Quartz that a dependent has been removed from the policy, you must send continuation information to the identified dependent as soon as possible.

Note: State law requires an employer to notify eligible individuals of the right to continue or convert group coverage within five days after the employer receives notice to terminate coverage.

Billing Invoice

You will receive either an email notification that your invoice is available or a paper invoice from Quartz between the 10th and 15th day of each month. Note: A paper bill charge of $25 per invoice will be assessed (only for groups with more than 50 total employees). The premium payment is due on the first day of the month for the coverage period.

How to Read Your Invoice

The invoice has four sections:

1. An alphabetical listing of current enrollment showing the premium for each employee;
2. An alphabetical listing of any people continuing coverage under COBRA or State continuation;
3. An alphabetical listing of all retroactive additions, terminations, and changes, along with the appropriate charges and/or credits with the members' names; and,
4. A listing of payments applied to your account since the last billing cycle.

How to Handle Billing and Enrollment Adjustments

Employee additions, deletions or other adjustments will appear on your invoice whether a payment was previously made, or credit was applied for the changes. If an enrollment change that you previously submitted is not addressed in your next invoice, please contact Quartz's Group Records Department.

Mid-Month Adjustments

- If the effective date for the subscriber is between the 1st and the 15th of the month, you will be billed for that month's premium.

- If the effective date for the subscriber is between the 16th and the end of the month, you will not be billed for that month's premium
- If the termination date for the subscriber is between the 1st and the 14th of the month, you will not be billed for that month's premium.
- If the termination date for the subscriber is between the 15th and the end of the month, you will be billed for that month's entire premium. This is because Quartz does not prorate for a half month.

Reconcile Payments

We strongly urge you to pay your total monthly invoice amount by the date it is due. Credits and charges will appear on a subsequent invoice. Quartz will adjust the invoice total for any retroactive charges and credits.

How to Pay Your Premium Invoice

Quartz recommends that you reconcile your billing invoice on a monthly basis. The following forms of payment are accepted:

- Company check. Mail payment to Quartz, P.O. Box 78730, Milwaukee, WI 53278-0730.
- ACH withdrawal with a checking or savings account. Quartz can automatically withdraw your premium from your bank account on the due date specified on your monthly invoice. Feel free to contact Quartz's Billing Department at (800) 362-3310 for more information on this service.
- You can use the online premium payment option attached to your premium invoice email to pay your invoice on the date you choose. You can also use the Pay Bill link within MyPlanTools.

Confidentiality Policy

Quartz has policies and procedures designed to safeguard the confidentiality of members' protected health information. The Privacy & Security Committee sets standards for external parties who work with Quartz, such as practitioners and providers. The Privacy & Security Committee also:

- Develops strategies to promote the detection of privacy or security incidents; and,
- Creates and approves new or updated policies and procedures for maintaining the privacy and security of members' protected health information.

The following is a brief summary of how Quartz uses and protects member information. For additional information, reference Quartz's Notice of Privacy Practices.

General Policy

Our policies and procedures establish guidelines for the proper handling of records and information used to administer health plan benefits. When responding to a request for information, Quartz's policy is to release only the information necessary to respond to the request.

Authorization for Release of Information

In cases where Quartz needs to obtain or disclose member information for purposes other than treatment, payment or health care operations, the member will be asked to complete and sign a General Authorization form that gives Quartz permission to obtain or disclose the information. Quartz must generally obtain a completed General Authorization form when information is to be used for the following purposes:

- Release of information to a family member, person with power of attorney, employer or attorney;
- Use and disclosure of protected health information for marketing purposes; or,
- Disclosure of protected health information that constitutes a sale of the protected health information.

In instances where a member is unable to provide authorization, Quartz may require a valid court order or other written proof of legal authority prior to disclosing information. Members and employers can access a Prior Authorization Request Form on Quartz's website.

Member Access to Medical Records

Quartz does not maintain original medical records. Members may access their medical records by contacting their practitioner's office or the provider of care, such as a hospital. Members must follow the practitioner's or provider's procedures for accessing medical information.

Disclosure of Information to Employers

Quartz provides certain types of information to employers as permitted by law. Quartz can provide any employer summary health information (as defined by HIPAA) for purposes of obtaining premium bids, or modifying, amending or terminating the group health plan. Quartz can also provide information that has been de-identified in accordance with HIPAA. Contact Quartz Customer Service if you are "hands-on" with protected health information and perform plan administration functions. Quartz must obtain additional legal documentation from employers considered "hands-on" who perform plan administration functions.

Treatment Setting

Practitioners and providers are expected to implement confidentiality policies and procedures that address the disclosure of protected health information, patient access to protected health information, and the storage and protection of protected health information. Quartz reviews practitioner confidentiality processes during pre-contractual site visits for PCPs and certain specialty care practitioners.

Claims

When a member visits an in-network provider, it is the in-network provider's responsibility to submit claims to Quartz on behalf of the member. If a member sees an out-of-network health care provider, that provider may bill Quartz, but it is ultimately the member's responsibility to submit a completed claim form to Quartz. A member may request a copy of the claim from the provider and submit it to Quartz. A member can also obtain a claim form at QuartzBenefits.com.

A medical claim is required and must contain all the necessary information listed below in order to be processed for payment:

- Member name
- Date of birth
- Date of service
- Diagnosis codes
- Procedure codes
- Billing amount
- Provider Name and Address
- Provider Tax ID Number

Quality Improvement

Data for quality improvement measures are collected from claims, pharmacy records, and other medical records. Quartz protects this information by reviewing records in non-public areas and excluding personally identifiable member protected health information from written reports when possible.

Workers' Compensation Coverage

If an employee experiences a work-related illness or injury, he/she must submit the claims for treatment immediately to his/her Workers' Compensation insurance carrier. Quartz does not provide coverage for services to treat an illness or injury arising from or incurred during the course of any employment for wage or profit. If the Workers' Compensation insurance carrier determines that it is not responsible, Quartz will provide coverage according to the terms and conditions of the policy.
